ABOUT FIRESTONE

Firestone remained a small town until its boom began in 2000. During that time, the population soared from 1,908 to 10,147 in 2010, notching out a 432 percent growth during that period. While the community continues to offer a small-town feel, it attracts a variety of new residents including many young families looking for affordable living and a short commute to regional metro areas.

The trails offer great recreation opportunities for residents and visitors to enjoy the great outdoors and connect to various parks and community amenities. The community is also home to the award-winning Saddleback Golf Club and St. Vrain State Park.
